

Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 27 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Bright with showers this afternoon, rain in north this morning.

Today:

Cloudy start, some heavy rain in the north this morning. Otherwise becoming brighter with scattered showers, frequent in the northwest. Shetland will see rain until late afternoon. Windy across Shetland. Much cooler than of late.

Tonight:

Clear periods and scattered showers, these becoming mostly confined to the northwest overnight. Becoming mostly dry in the east. Brisk southwesterly winds in the northwest.

Tuesday:

Some bright or sunny intervals and scattered showers, these most frequent in the west. Showers turning briefly heavy later.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:

Mainly dry on Wednesday. Unsettled on Thursday and Friday, with scattered showers or occasionally longer spells of rain.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.